April 1, 2008

Due to a number of issues raised and the need for further research, the Department of Commerce is postponing indefinitely the implementation of the prevailing wage pension plan policy originally announced on September 28, 2007, and extended until April 1, 2008 by a subsequent posting.

Please note that this extension addresses pension plans only, and has no effect on the calculation formula laid out in the September 28, 2007, notice for any other fringe benefits.

Sincerely,

Robert S. Kennedy
